BOARD MEETING UPDATES

Happy New Year!!

We are so glad to be back after a month off...

In December the Board of Directors hosted the annual Christmas Luncheon for the past presidents of PASPB at Abuelo's Mexican Restaurant. It was a great turnout and we enjoyed each others company and wonderful food.

The board met last week, Tuesday 15th at Pioneer Natural Resources. We approved the minutes from November 2018 along with the current Treasurer's Report.

Joan Neagle confirmed the rest of the years luncheon meetings dates at the Midland Country Club. (see events for those dates)

Greg Ostroff confirmed our speaker for Jan and Feb. He mentioned doing more of a technical presentation from the individual COPAS committees for our April meeting and is working on a speaker for March.

Our current membership is 223 members, thank you Kye King for all your work. Please be sure you are signing in and RSVP'ing for the meetings.

See "Society News" for all committee updates.

The need for self-study courses becomes increasingly more important as tightening budgets restrict travel and increase work hours. We have a number of self-study modules in development to allow you to take our courses at your own steady pace, from the comfort of your desk, kitchen table, sofa, or local coffee shop. Our COPAS Learning platform will provide easy access to the self-study courses and each course will be available to participants for a full year after individual registration. You will be able to complete courses at your own speed and receive your certificate automatically upon completion of the course modules.
