Speaker Bios

Greg Ostroff, CPA, APA

Greg is a native Texan born and raised in Dallas, Texas. His first job out of college was with Conoco in Ponca City, OK. After stints in public accounting and a non-profit, he returned to oil and gas for a 31 year career with Anadarko Petroleum in Fort Worth, the Woodlands, Kermit and Midland. While at Anadarko, he held various positions in income tax, most areas of oil and gas accounting, severance taxes, corporate planning, and finished his career managing the business support functions of Anadarko's Delaware Basin Business Unit. One of those functions was accounting for the large amount of water produced from their wells in the Delaware Basin. Greg began working at Endeavor Energy Resources a year ago. He is a CPA and an APA.

Ryan Kavanaugh

Ryan is currently the SWD Operations Manager for Environmental Disposal Systems, a wholly owned subsidiary of Endeavor Energy Resources where he is responsible for the planning, construction, and operations of produced water gathering lines, salt water disposal facilities, and produced water recycle facilities. Prior to Endeavor, Ryan worked at Anadarko Petroleum Corporation in planning, facilities engineering, and project management capacities in the Deepwater Gulf of Mexico and Delaware Basin. While in the Delaware Basin, Ryan served as the interim commissioning manager during the start-up of the largest midstream build-out in Anadarko's history, which included over 200 miles of produced water gathering pipelines and 300,000+ BW/d of disposal capacity. Ryan holds a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from The University of Notre Dame.
